

Introduction

Join me in Paris. I have time for a short holiday before returning home to the attic of the fashion house in California with Adriana. I am going to be exploring some of Paris's magical landmarks like The Louvre Museum and the Eiffel Tower. I'm also going to do some window shopping and enjoy the amazing food that Paris has to offer. I hope that you'll join me on this magical adventure in the new book that my friend Teelie Turner has written about me.
